Hello citizens of Selkirk First Nation. My name is Janelle Hager. My parents are Ernestine Silverfox-Silas and William Lewis. My grandparents are Lizzie Hall and the late Ernest Silas. I was born in Whitehorse, YT. I spent my younger years between Whitehorse and Pelly Crossing. I am a mother to four children and grandmother to one grandchild. Growing up in Pelly Crossing provided me with a sense of home and community. I remember everyone helping one another. As an adult with four young children, I felt the community I once knew began to separate and people were no longer taking care of one another. I want our future generations to feel the safety and sense of community I once felt. Working together, we can move toward a healthier community and people.

I moved away from Pelly Crossing to attend post-secondary education. I have since obtained my Bachelor of Science in Nursing. During my educational journey, I obtained valuable experience in working with people toward realistic and common goals. I also learned the value of education in becoming self-sufficient. Nursing has taught me to be compassionate, have empathy, give respect, and provide dignity. It also taught me the value of trust, integrity, altruism, and advocacy. Working as a team and independently taught me how to ask for help but also how to work together toward solutions. I believe the experience I gained will be a valuable asset to our leadership and working toward community empowerment and unity.
